The amount of additional national bank notes issued by the treasury department is being encouraged in the belief the crisis in the money situation has passed.

REPORTED HOLDINGS FAR FROM ESTIMATE

Less Than One-Sixth of Supposed Money and Kettles in County Discovers by Assessors—Equalization Committee Perplexed.

The equalization committee of the county board, in session at the court house today, was engaged in a spirited discussion of the wide discrepancy between the assessed valuation of the money, bonds, notes, etc., held in this county—$124,010—and the estimated true valuation of $2,882,050, and methods proposed for getting around this shortcoming. The Avon assessor, for instance, found only $100 while the estimated true valuation is $37,000. The Janesville assessors found $64,469 while the true valuation is fixed at $688,500; the Beloit assessors, $18,675, while the estimated true valuation is $642,750. The committee may decide to take the estimated total valuation as a basis and divide this form of wealth in proportion to the value of real estate and property holdings in the various localities.

IS THERE A "HEN ON" BY STATE POLITICAL LEADERS?

Indications Point To A "Mutualization" Of Interests Between Leaders Of The Different Factions.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Nov. 8.—There is a strange silence in the Wisconsin political situation while gossipers declare that there will shortly be effected a sensational "mutualization" between the LaFollette and Davidson factions in the republican party, the basis of which will be the unopposed renomination of James O. Davidson for governor and the delivery of the national republican convention delegation from Wisconsin for Senator LaFollette. There are frequent callers of political character at the executive office, but no word of their missions or negotiations is let out, and while it is certain that something is quietly doing in the political way, the thing is not yet uncovered. It is known, however, that Governor Davidson desires another term in the executive chair and desires to get it without being put to the necessity of carrying a heavy campaign burden, and it is also known that the LaFollette people want the Wisconsin delegation to come to him without opposition for the effect it will have in getting other state delegations into the "LaFollette for president" procession. It is quite generally understood that Governor Davidson could not be defeated in any way, but if he can be assured of a renomination without any fight or effort whatever, it is assumed that this arrangement would be acceptable to him.

SATURDAY'S GAME IS WITH INDIANA TEAM

Wisconsin Plays the Hoosier Team at Camp Randall Tomorrow.

Madison, Nov. 8.—Tomorrow at Camp Randall the University of Wisconsin football eleven meets the team from the University of Indiana, and the badgers do not expect a dangerous game from their opponents, although the visitors have sent an advance notice to the effect that they are coming to win the contest. The dope favors Wisconsin, as Indiana has not showed up particularly strong this season and Wisconsin, now with the experience of two hard games, those against Illinois and Iowa, is in the best form of the season. The badgers also have made much improvement during the past week and two of the best men who have been on the list of cripples have returned to the game. These are Fackel, formerly quarterback, who will play right end against Indiana, and Dittman, who will play in the line, Wisconsin's weakest place. There is some possibility that Oshoff, the best badger backfield player, who has not played in a game yet this year, will play part of the Indiana game, but he will not be allowed to stay in long enough to endanger his chances of being fit for the final and most important game of the year, two weeks hence with Minnesota. The probable lineup of Wisconsin will be as follows:

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN THE U. S. NAVY

Rear Admiral Lyon Retires Today From Navy After Service Commencing During Civil War.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—The navy loses an efficient and popular officer through the retirement for age today of Rear Admiral Henry W. Lyon, who was recently relieved of the command of the Mare Island navy yard. Admiral Lyon comes from Massachusetts and has been in the navy since civil war days. One of the most remarkable experiences in the long career of Admiral Lyon occurred at the time of the terrible hurricane disaster at San Juan in 1889. Admiral Lyon, then a captain, was in command of the Nipole, one of the American warships that suffered damage in the storm. The Nipole was blown from her anchorage onto the beach, but was eventually hauled off with great difficulty with her keel, rudder and rudder post gone and her hull leaking badly. Her crew was badly twisted. Despite all of these troubles Captain Lyon took the ship safely to Honolulu, 3,320 miles distant, and had her repaired, there being no chance to have the work properly done elsewhere. It was a most remarkable feat and for it the captain received the thanks of the Navy Department.

The retirement of Admiral Lyon results in a number of changes and promotion among the officers of lower grade. Chief among these is the promotion of Commander John M. Sawyer to the grade of captain. Captain Sawyer was born in Indiana, but was appointed to the navy from Iowa. He was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1874 and has since cruised in all parts of the world. He has been selected to command the battleship Illinois of the Atlantic fleet and will be the youngest captain in the big fleet on the coming cruise to the Pacific.

The committee ascertained that large sums of money owned by farmers were deposited in the city each year and while it is difficult to ascertain who has this money the assessment will be raised in all the country districts.

JANESVILLE MAN MADE PRESIDENT

SUPT. H. C. BUELL HEADS STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

DEFEATS HIS OPPONENTS

Has a Total of 1,334 Votes to McIVER's
636—Clean-Cut Victory
Given Him.

Superintendent of the Janesville Schools H. C. Buell was elected president of the Wisconsin State Teachers' Association at the annual election in Milwaukee yesterday. By his election Mr. Buell and the city of Janesville are honored. While his election was thought certain a report emanating from Milwaukee yesterday afternoon caused the Gazette to publish the fact that Mr. McIVER of Oshkosh would probably be named. It was an error of the Milwaukee correspondent who took a rumor for a fact.

SUPT. H. C. BUELL ELECTED PRESIDENT TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

fact. The other object of the convention was the selection of a secretary. Miss Katherine R. Williams of Milwaukee was named to succeed herself.

The Vote.

The vote on these two officers was as follows:—Total number of votes cast, 2,567; for H. C. Buell, 1,334; for M. S. McIVER, 636; for H. E. Leverenz, 527; scattering, 13.

For secretary—Total number of votes cast, 2,531; for Miss Katherine R. Williams, 1,877; for A. C. Brown, 527; scattering, 6.

It had hardly been expected that the first day's balloting would result in an election of a president, but Mr. Buell's immense vote, exceeding that of both his rivals, made the second day's voting unnecessary. Immediately after the announcement, Mr. Buell received congratulations from teachers in all parts of the state, and it was an almost universal sentiment that the association will find in him one of the ablest and fairest presidents it has ever had.

Splendid Man, Says McIVER.

"I have to say that the association has a splendid man for its president," said Superintendent McIVER, one of the defeated candidates. "Mr. Buell is a fine man and will give the association a good administration. Personally, of course, I am disappointed also for my friends who worked for me."

"Mr. Buell will make an excellent president," said Supt. Leverenz. "I can congratulate the association."

Buell's Thanks.

"I appreciate the appointment that has been paid me more highly than I can say," said Mr. Buell. "In accepting the office it is with the firm intention of working for all the educational interests of the state from the rural schools to the university. I have no favorites for I believe that this association should be above all petty affairs and differences. It should stand first and always for the interests of the boys and girls of Wisconsin for the development of a better citizenship and for an educational statehood. I shall prize highly the memory of the support which my friends have given me here."

Biographical Sketch.

H. C. Buell was born at Lake Geneva, Walworth county, Wisconsin, May 28, 1865. The son of a farmer his early education was obtained in the "country schools" of Linn township. At the age of fourteen he entered the Lake Geneva Seminary, at which institution he remained four years, with an interval of one year at Beloit Academy. His first teaching was in the school which he first attended in Linn township. In 1888 he entered the Milwaukee Normal School from which institution he was graduated in 1891. The following September he entered upon his duties as assistant principal in the High School at Mineral Point, Wisconsin. In 1893 he was elected vice principal of the Janesville High School. Later he was elected superintendent of the city schools, which position he now holds.

INDIAN RELICS ARE STILL BEING FOUND

At Lake Koshkonong, and New Details of Old Life in Winnebago Villages Accepted.

While on a hunting trip at Lake Koshkonong recently, Register of Deeds Charles Wehrick picked up an ancient copper ring with an odd design scratched on its surface, some metal clamps used to bind the braids of hair, a number of flint arrow points and some pieces of pottery. Louis Slavien found a well-preserved stone axe. That claims were large factors in the economy of the Winnebago Indians is evidenced by the myriads of shells found on the ancient village site. Those shells were also ground up and used with clay in the composition of the peculiar pottery vessels which the aborigines manufactured. Numerous remains of the old little round houses peculiar to the head of the neck are also in evidence and indicate that this fish of doubtful delicacy which has long since disappeared from the waters of the lake, was at one time very plentiful.

DEEP WATERWAY GETS SEVERE BLOW

STEAD HOLDS ECONOMY COMPANY LEASE TO BE VALID.

DAM MAY BE COMPLETED

Illinois Plan for Issue of $20,000,000 Bonds Undoubtedly Killed—Only Hope Now in Government.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8.—A heavy blow was dealt the deep waterway advocates Thursday afternoon in an opinion prepared by Attorney General Stead at the request of Gov. Benson. The opinion deals with the navigability of the Des Moines river and the state's rights in the stream.

Briefly, Mr. Stead interprets the law on the subject as follows:

"The navigability of the Des Moines river is a question of fact and not of law. If the Des Moines river is not navigable in fact, no action will lie by the state to remove, or prevent, the completion of the dam now in course of construction by the Economy Light & Power Company of Joliet at Dresden Heights. The Economy company holds a valid lease to state property at the site of the Dresden Heights dam and may use this land for the construction of the dam, even to the extent of flooding the same."

Probably Kills the Scheme.

Under this ruling prospects of a deep waterway go glimmering unless the people vote an expenditure of $20,000,000 to deepen the waterway with the knowledge that the power created will yield millions of dollars to the Economy company, instead of to the state.

This is considered so remote, however, that there appears small prospect of even an attempt on the part of the state to have the question passed upon.

According to the Stead opinion, in the judgment of lawyers who examined the document, the only chance for the state to acquire title to any water power along the channel of the proposed ship canal is to buy outright, at condemnation sale, the riparian rights of abutting land owners. The outlay required for this would be so stupendous that such a plan probably would be dismissed without serious consideration.

Now Up to the Government.

It appears now to be up to the United States government to proceed with the deep waterway movement, if the dreams of the promoters of the lake-to-the-gulf deep sea canal are to be realized.

While it was considered a reasonably easy proposition to secure the approval by the voters of an expenditure of $20,000,000 on the waterway so long as there was a probability of the return of the outlay through the sale of water power, no one here expects the people to consent to the proposed bond issue when the principal sum probably would not pay the damages incurred, let alone turn a shoeful of dirt.

The Dresden Heights dam will not interfere with the physical construction of the deep waterway channel, provision having been made for a 14-foot channel. This meets the requirements of the war department and harmonizes with the federal scheme for the deep waterway development.

Souvenir Cards for Orphans.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Postmaster General Meyer has ordered that hereafter souvenir post cards received at the dead letter office of the department that are not returnable to senders because of defective addresses or other reasons be sent to the orphan asylums and children's homes in this city. It had been removed and the robbers got only five dollars.

CIVIL SERVICE MEN MEET

REFORM LEAGUE'S CONVENTION
OPENS IN BUFFALO, N. Y.

Report of Council Notes Two Milestones of Progress—Postal Department Is Scored.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Civil Service Reform league began here Thursday. Many persons prominently identified with the movement for civil service reform in all parts of the country addressed the afternoon session, and the night session of the council was addressed by Gov. Charles D. Hughes and Charles J. Bonaparte, attorney general of the United States.

The annual report of the council was read by Chairman Richard Henry Dana, of Boston. The report mentioned politicians by name and condemned their alleged shortcomings. It said in part:

"In regard to the suppression of undue political activity among government employees, we note two milestones as we progress. One is the policy established that no government employee, even outside the competitive classified service, shall, at the same time, hold an office in a party organization, or allow his political work to interfere with his official duties. The other is the executive order giving the civil service committee power to investigate cases of undue political activity of employees in the competitive service. Among these employees no political activity is permitted."

The report highly commends the precedent established by President Roosevelt in the appointment of a postmaster for New York city. It declares the present methods are responsible for "the worst postal department of any highly civilized country in the world."

SANTA FE FINED $330,000.

Read Found Guilty of Rebuilding Receiving Its Punishment.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 8.—Judge Olin Wellborn in the United States district court Thursday fined the Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe company $330,000 for rebuilding. The fine was what the court denominated "an intermediate penalty," the maximum which might have been assessed being $1,250,000 and the minimum $65,000.

The Santa Fe company was convicted on October 11 last by a jury in the federal court of granting rebates to the Grand Canyon Lime and Cement company of Arizona. It was found guilty of all the 66 counts charged in the indictment after but an hour's deliberation. The rebates, which were given on shipments of lime and cement from Nelson, Arizona, to Los Angeles, ranged in amounts from 25 cents to $15.

BANDITS CRIPPLE A BANK.

Hold Up Town of Canova, S. D., and Escape with $6,500.

Canova, S. D., Nov. 8.—Badly crippled financially and with its quarters almost ruined as a result of an early morning raid by seven bandits, the International bank opened its doors as usual Thursday, wealthy residents going to the aid of the institution with ready cash to tide over the embarrassment.

How the bandits came and where they went is a mystery. Everything of value was taken from the safe with the exception of $1,000, which the cashier of the bank had hidden the night before. The loss, amounting to $6,500, is fully covered by insurance. Some of the bandits held the citizens in check while the others blew open the bank vault.

QUENTIN HAS FUN WITH SNAKES IN WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON.—Quentin Roosevelt caused chills to chase up and down the spinal columns of Attorney General Bonaparte, Representative Hepburn, and ex-representative Lacey, of Iowa, the other day when he appeared in the president's office with two live snakes coiled about him. Quentin is somewhat impetuous, especially when on roller skates, and he skated into the office of his father, who was having a conference with Attorney General Bonaparte. As Quentin approached, the snakes hissed and the attorney general side-stopped with great agility. President Roosevelt suggested to Quentin that he disappear. Quentin hastened into the cabinet room where Representative Hepburn and Mr. Lacey were waiting to see the president. They thought the snakes were harmless wooden affairs and began to admire them. Then the larger snake began to wriggle and wrap itself around the arm of Quentin and the distinguished lawyers in their terror made frantic efforts to walk up the walls.

MAY USE STREET CARS TO IMPROVE POSTAL SERVICE

EVERY street car in this country may be made a travelling post-office before long. Such a plan is now under consideration by Second Assistant Postmaster General McCleary, with the object of still further improving the mail service.

Mr. McCleary's idea is that when a person writes a letter the sooner it is on its way the better it suits him. It may facilitate the still further improved the man will write two letters where he now writes one and the government will receive just that much more revenue. Postoffice street cars, he believes, will place the writing public in close touch with the postal department and the convenience will add materially to the government's income.

The system has been tried on the line between Minneapolis and St. Paul and has proved successful. Every car on that line is equipped with a

ARMY OF CATERPILLARS IS DEVOURING FOLIAGE

FOLIAGE on Washington's trees is being devoured wholesale by an army of tussock caterpillars, the larvae of the tussock moth, and apparently nothing can be done to check the ravages of these now doing the damage, though precautions can be taken against a repetition of the pest next year. Aiding and abetting the tussock caterpillars are the cohorts of the "fall web worms," which are by no means so numerous, but which, nevertheless, are doing an immense amount of damage.

For many years the tussock caterpillar has been the most serious of the shade-tree pests in Philadelphia, New York, Brooklyn and Boston, but it was not until 1895 that it appeared in Washington in sufficient numbers to be regarded as a menace to the foliage. In that year also the fall web worm was more abundant in this city than it had been since 1888. In 1901 the pests of both kinds again appeared in great numbers, and now there is another invasion, giving a period of six years between each great attack. Hitherto the chief check upon the insects has been the parasites that come in great numbers in the same years that the caterpillars abound and destroy most of the multitude of eggs laid by the pests. Destruction by

STATE DEPARTMENT TO TEACH GREEN CONSULS

NO MORE green consuls are to be sent abroad to represent America. If the plans of the state department, which have just been put in practice, realize expectations.

Ever since the establishment of the consular service it has been customary to permit a newly appointed consul 30 days with pay before leaving America for his post.

A room in the department has been equipped as a complete working American consulate, suitable to transact the business of any part of the world, civilized or uncivilized.

Appointees are no longer permitted to spend that 30 days period in their own way, but are required to report every day at the state department for duty and to spend a certain number of hours in this model consular office.

TRADE CONDITIONS ARE MUCH BETTER

MARKED IMPROVEMENT SHOWN
OVER PREVIOUS WEEK.

REPORTS TO DUN & CO.

Restraint of Currency Circulation
Seems to Have Had Little Effect on the Volume of Business.

New York, Nov. 8.—Inquiry at the offices of R. S. Dun & Co., Thursday, elicited the information that trade conditions through the United States during the past week have shown quite a marked improvement over the preceding seven-day period.

The issuance of house certificates and checks in communities where the circulation of currency has been restricted has had no apparent effect on the volume of trade. Especially is this true in the retail lines, where the demand generally has been steady and of increasing volume as the season advances. The tone of the incoming weekly reports is one of healthy industrial and financial conditions in every section heard from.

In some instances there is a tendency to act upon a conservative basis in placing heavy orders for future delivery, and this course is being counseled by the jobbers themselves, who, already having the situation well in hand, are anxious that it shall move forward on the soundest possible footing.

Past-Due Accounts Are Few.
One of the most gratifying features of the week's reports from the principal trade centers is that the jobbers are carrying fewer past-due accounts on their books than for many years. In the iron markets there is a tendency to price immediate needs only, but the supply of the metal holds good.

Business failures for the week have shown no appreciable increase over those of four weeks past, the percentage of failures reaching the $5,000 mark and over remaining small. These reports coming from the interior of the country, were received with satisfaction in New York and were considered by business interests as indicating the ability of the rest of the country to weather the storm as successfully as did New York.

Reports from Several Cities.
The following are extracts from reports of various cities as received at the Dun agency:
Cleveland, O.—Trade in retail lines shows improvements as season advances. Manufacturers continue busy and labor finds ready employment. The jobbers are having an active season and shipbuilding is brisk. Local financial and industrial conditions are healthy, and collections are improved.

Columbus, O.—The volume of business continues large and collections fair. The retail business is good. Banks are conservative in making advances.

Cincinnati, O.—Retail business is fair with orders for spring goods in fair volume. The whiskey market is active, from somewhat dull. Collections inclined to be slow.

In the Northwest.
St. Paul.—Collections have been somewhat irregular, but the plan of the banks to insure movement of crops has improved conditions. The demand for reasonable merchandise holds up well.

Minneapolis.—The action of the local banks in refusing to ship currency to the country banks has had little effect on the business of the local jobbers. Collections have fallen off somewhat, but the jobbers are carrying very few past-due accounts on their books.

Portland, Ore.—Wheat shipments for the month of October were 1,243,939 bushels, as against 382,598 in October, 1906. One hundred thousand barrels of flour are loading for China and Japan. Lumber shipments are showing a great increase. Wholesale trade has shown some effect of the money stringency.

Baltimore.—The week in wholesale lines has been active, the demand for dry goods being brisk and for forward deliveries of clothing, heavy. Leaf tobacco continues high with light demand.

Atlanta.—Financial conditions continue quite easy, although the banks have restricted the withdrawal of currency as a precautionary measure. There is no uneasiness in business circles. Jobbing continues good and collections fair.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

States, is only $21,552,000,000, and of this amount 20 per cent or more than $4,000,000,000 is in cashier's checks or current credits—that is, credit currency—and yet while the United States has three-sevenths of the banking power of the entire world, it has not one single dollar of current bank credit, although the other four-sevenths of the world's banking power has the advantage of $4,000,000,000 current credits, or credit currency.

"On the same basis we are entitled to have $3,000,000,000 of current credit, or credit currency.

"If this principle were broadly adopted in this country, as it should be, our bank reserves might be increased from an average of 9 to 10 per cent to about 20 per cent, and our banking facilities remain practically the same.

"To explain this statement it will be necessary to give the facts more explicitly and fully:

"On July 1, 1907, there was in the banks approximately $1,000,000,000 in reserves, and in the pockets of the people and in the tills of the stores there was approximately $1,250,000,000. In other words, the people were using more gold certificates, United States notes and silver certificates or reserve money by 25 per cent than the banks held.

"Can anyone give a single reason why we should use a checkbook for credits to order and not use a current credit of the same bank upon which we draw our checks? Is not the cashier's check just as good as our check upon the same bank—indeed, far better—when protected as it should be by a guarantee fund deposited with the United States government many times more than ample to insure its redemption in gold coin?

"If the banking institutions of the country could exchange $1,000,000,000 of cashier's checks for $1,000,000,000 of reserve money now floating around in the tills, wheat, corn and cotton fields, and this $1,000,000,000 added to the $1,000,000,000 in the banks on July 1, 1907, our bank liabilities would be increased only about 8 per cent, while our reserves would be increased 100 per cent, and instead of our average reserve being about 10 per cent, it would be 20 per cent, and this end alone is sufficient to justify the adoption of the principle of current credit in this country.

"Scotland has a credit currency issued by the banks that expands and contracts twice a year at the rate of $1.22 per capita, or $5,500,000,000.

"The same ratio would give the United States about $100,000,000 of credit currency; but we have not one cent of credit currency, though we need it more than any other country in the world.

"France has a credit currency issued by the Bank of France, which is constantly expanding and contracting throughout the year at the rate of $1.72 per capita, or $67,600,000,000.

"The same ratio would give the United States $150,000,000 of credit currency; but we have not one cent of credit currency, though we need it more than any other country in the world.

"Germany has a credit currency which expands and contracts four times every year at the rate of $2.12 per capita, or $125,000,000,000.

"The same ratio would give us $300,000,000 of credit currency; but we have not a cent of credit currency, though we need it more than any other country in the world.

"Canada has a credit currency issued by the banks that expands and contracts at the rate of $3.29 per capita every fall, or $25,000,000,000.

"The same ratio would give the United States $280,000,000 of credit currency; but we have not a single cent of credit currency, though we need it more than any other country in the world.

"This is the story of the whole civilized world. Criminal ignorance and criminal negligence have precipitated the present situation.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler of New Jersey, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, outlines a plan for a flexible currency, and closes with the above facts and figures, which constitute a strong argument in favor.

It will be surprising to note that more money is today in the hands of the people than is contained in all the banks of the country. A large block of this money has gone out from New York, and other money centers, during the past 30 days, to pay for cereals and cotton.

This drain is of annual occurrence and in ordinary times creates no disturbance; but this year it comes at a time when the stock of currency was depleted, so that it is in a measure responsible for the present stringency.

Mr. Fowler's plan would substitute for this large volume of money, an asset currency similar to cashier's checks, but issued and secured by the government. This would permit eastern banks to hold national currency and specie, while their correspondents throughout the west and south could issue a flexible currency to meet unusual demands, and retire the same when its mission was accomplished.

The plan seems feasible, and will doubtless be adopted by congress.

If it were possible to keep the money we now have in circulation, there would be no occasion to increase the volume, but money is fluid and sensitive, and seeks retirement on the slightest provocation. The stock of money is much larger today than the stock of confidence. Congress and the administration can do much to restore the latter of common sense legislation. The nation is surfeited with reform and radicalism.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: A dispatch from Madison states that there has been a falling off in the number of hunting licenses issued this year by reason of the new law which restricts the hunter to one deer. All of which would indicate that the pot hunter instinct has a stronger grip on some men than the spirit of the true sportsman.

Lean Giant Powder Expected.

Milwaukee News: If Washington dispatches are not misleading, President Roosevelt purposes to trim his sails to the steady winds of conservatism. We are told that "while President Roosevelt does not admit that he has in any way contributed to the present financial situation, he has become convinced that he is a very important factor in it so far as it may be improved and the cause of irritation and excitement removed. That he is deeply concerned that the tendency to unseemly values does not go on is impressed on all who have discussed any of the phases of the matter with him. From the best information obtainable here as to the probabilities of presidential action, it is quite certain that there will be not nearly so many attacks of giant powder in the annual message as were forecasted a few months ago."

NEEDS OF MARINE CORPS

BRIG. GEN. ELLIOTT SAYS IT MUST BE REORGANIZED.

Demoralizing Effects of Service in the Tropics Noted—Pay Is Too Small.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The absolute necessity for a reorganization and an increase of both officers and men in the marine corps is set out in the annual report of Brig. Gen. G. F. Elliott, commanding, made public Thursday.

At the present time, the report shows, nearly 62 per cent of both the commissioned and the enlisted personnel of the troops are serving either on board ship, in Cuba or in the insular possessions, leaving but 38 per cent in the United States. Gen. Elliott says it is well recognized that tropical duty, to which many of the officers and men are assigned, is of the most trying and enervating character, and it can easily be seen that the general effect of such service is bound to be demoralizing. He adds that figures of a most convincing character can be submitted to show that the conditions existing in the corps are most grave, and it permitted to continue will militate against efficiency.

As in the case of the army, the attractions of the marine corps, Gen. Elliott says, do not seem to be sufficient to obtain the number of men of the required standard to meet the demand, and it will be necessary to increase the pay and allowances and improve the general conditions.

SCRAP NEAR MILTON
ENDS UP IN COURT

Trouble Between Farmers Living Near Milton Results in One Being Fined $10 and Costs.

An altercation that might have started an atrocious feud had the scene been laid in the mountains of Kentucky instead of near the peaceful village of Milton occurred Monday morning between F. W. Wells and Benjamin Ballard which resulted in the arrest of Mr. Ballard who was later fined $10 and costs in Justice W. M. Thayer's court at Milton.

A quarrel between the two men started Monday over some chickens owned by Mr. Ballard. Later in the day Mr. Wells was passing his neighbor's place with a team and wagon when Mr. Ballard rushed out to the road and attempted to attack the driver. In the scuffle Mr. Ballard seized a shovel on the wagon and struck his antagonist in the chest.

Mr. Wells thereupon picked up a good sized stone which he hurled at his assailant striking him in the eye. The case was tried in Milton yesterday afternoon, there being a large-sized crowd of the justice's office to hear the trial. Attorney E. D. McGowan of Janesville appeared for Mr. Wells and Attorney Ray Clark of Milton defended Mr. Ballard.

LITTLE MOVEMENT
IN TOBACCO CROP

Weather Conditions Are Good for the Crop—Few Sales Are Announced.

Weather conditions favorable to the curing of the hanging tobacco crop which have now prevailed for nearly a month past still continue, each day bringing the crop nearer the cured state. No freezes heavy enough to penetrate the sheds have occurred, and very little injury from the source could now be done. No movement can be detected anywhere along the line looking towards the buying of the crop.

The market for cured leaf has under a cloud of unsettled monetary conditions that do not furnish much encouragement. Forced sales under such circumstances would mean only losses to packers. Old stock, too, moves but sparingly, only on urgent needs of manufacturers. And the local markets are only a reflection of trade in eastern centers.

The shipments out of storage reached most liberal proportions, something like 20 carloads, some cases, having gone forward to all points from this market during the week past.

The licenses cost one dollar, so the residents of Rock county have paid $1,667 for the privilege of a few days or weeks' sport in the woods, as the case may be. Yesterday one was granted here to Foster Dechow, a full-blooded Winnebago Indian boy who is going with a party of friends to the territory about Star Line.

Chased Runaway on a Bike: A runaway horse and delivery cart, the property of T. Dechow, pursued by a youth on a bicycle, caused much excitement in the business district yesterday afternoon. The bike rider got alongside the frightened animal but was unable to head it off until, as it turned onto Court street, Roy Palmer took a hand in the game. The harness had pulled loose by this time and the horse was running about in a circle when it was with considerable difficulty halted.

COOPER HAS CONFAB
WITH LAFOLLETTEITES

Talks with Assistant State Fire Marshal and Game Warden While Here This Morning.

Congressman H. A. Cooper stopped in Janesville this morning long enough to get a cup of coffee and sandwich and hold a short "confab" with a couple of his henchmen who by virtue of their labors for the cause of "child's patent" hold state jobs.

The congressman was on his way back from Monticello where he delivered his Philippine talk last night. He slipped into the lunch room at the St. Paul depot as soon as the train stopped and after getting his blotto-out he stood at the rear end of the Milwaukee train where he held a quiet conversation with S. S. Summers, assistant State Fire Marshal, and Hugh Wilson, deputy Game Warden for Green and Lafayette counties.

Mr. Cooper was so interested in his little talk with these "half-breed" henchmen that he almost failed to catch his train. That Congressman Cooper should have talked with two men at the St. Paul depot is apparently of no great significance except when taken in the light of his declaration made in a county congressional convention held in Monroe a few years ago that he was going to ally himself with neither faction of the Republican party. But minds will change and Mr. Cooper is just as pleased to get a line on politics now as any other office holder in search of a re-nomination and a re-election.

FURNACE WORK

HOARDED CURRENCY BEING BROUGHT OUT

HIGH PREMIUM RATES ENTICE IT FROM HIDING PLACES.

SOLD TO MONEY BROKERS

Sure Sign of Returning Confidence—
Foreign Banks Put Up Discount Rate to Preserve Their Reserves.

New York, Nov. 8.—The magnet of high premium rates for currency is attracting the money hoarded by depositors in steel vaults and strong boxes, and within the last two days over $2,000,000 has been enticed from its hiding places and sold for a premium to money brokers.

The placing of these large amounts of hoarded currency in circulation is performing its important work in lessening the monetary stringency and brokers are confident that more currency will soon find its way into circulation from safe deposit vaults, the owners of which, now being reassured as to the financial future, are anxious to take advantage of the large premium rates.

Sign of Returning Confidence.
The falling off of the premium rate for currency Thursday from 3½ to 3 per cent. was brought about by the large amount of gold and silver that was taken from safe deposit vaults and offered for sale. Purchases of currency were generally for out-of-town account and brokers state that currency bought here is being dispatched to agricultural and industrial centers where it is most needed. The reappearance of gold hidden away in apprehension is a sure sign of returning confidence and belief that the storm has passed, according to money brokers, who likened the present situation to 1893, when advancing premiums for currency when money was tightest called forth a perfect flood from the vaults where it had lain hidden, and brought about a state of financial equilibrium.

Foreign Discount Goes Up.
The contest of the European money markets to retain their gold reserves was indicated by the simultaneous action Thursday of three of the large central banks of Europe and a call for a meeting Friday of the governing board of a fourth.

The Bank of England advanced its rate of discount from six to seven per cent., a rate which has not before been reached since 1873. The Bank of France advanced its regular discount rate from 3½ per cent. to 4 per cent., and fixed the rate for loans on securities at 4½ per cent. The National Bank of Belgium advanced its rate of discount from 5½ to 6 per cent., and Dr. Koch, the governor of the Imperial Bank of Germany, called a meeting of the governing board for Friday, which is expected to advance the discount rate of the bank from 8 to 7 per cent. These movements in Europe are regarded as an indication of the ability of New York to command gold and the efforts of the European banks to protect themselves against this demand.

Won't Stop Gold Importation.
Even these high discount rates, however, are regarded as insufficient to prevent the further importation of gold into this country, in view of the large credits which are being created by the shipment of wheat and cotton. The stock market reflected the pressure for money by considerable declines Thursday, but these declines generally were expected by bankers, who looked upon the rapid advance in quotations of Wednesday as hardly justified by the situation.

The engagements of gold Thursday brought up the total importation on the present movement to $40,425,000, an amount which would permit a loan expansion of more than $150,000,000 if the legal reserves had not been already impaired.

More Gold Reaches Frisco.
San Francisco, Nov. 8.—A decided improvement was experienced here Thursday in financial circles. Money was more plentiful than it had been for five days. Another flood of gold was turned into the city from the sub-treasury, $530,000 being paid out before noon. This large sum came from New York and nine-tenths of it was for banks in this city. The rest, in small amounts, went to banks in Stockton, Sacramento, Oakland, Everett, Wash., and Ogden, Utah.

Small Bank Suspends.
Lawton, Okla., Nov. 8.—The Merchants & Planters' bank of Lawton, a small state institution with $70,000 on deposit and $25,000 capital, suspended business Thursday.

Engineer Killed in Wreck.
Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The fast east-bound passenger train on the Lackawanna plowed into a freight wreck near Fargo early Friday morning. The passenger engine, baggage and mail cars were wrecked. Engineer William F. Hammond was killed. Fireman H. J. Tompkins was badly injured. None of the passengers was seriously injured.

Stock Exchange Seat Sells Cheap.
New York, Nov. 8.—A seat on the New York stock exchange was sold Thursday for $60,000, the lowest price recorded since 1904, when a seat was disposed of for $37,000. The high record price was reached late in 1905, when a seat brought $95,000 and a sale for a like sum was recorded early in 1906.

Starvation Wages.
Some London seamstresses receive only 31 cents a dozen for making shirts.

Mr. Morgan is married and has three daughters.

Great Game in Its Decadence.

Cleveland Leader: "This moribund, drowsy revival of the football rules, remarked an old time player the other day, 'marks the beginning of the downfall of the game. After a while it will become as tame as prize fighting, and then the states will begin to pass laws against it. History repeats itself. There were never any laws against pugilism until the fighters began to wear soft gloves.'"

HE OUGHT TO KNOW.

Painters have a sort of natural prejudice against quality paint; and considering the quality of some, we don't blame them. But paint makers know some things that it might pay painters to learn, and one of them is that paint materials can be better mixed in large quantities by machinery than by hand. Better mixed means that the paint covers better, brushes out smoother, and lasts better. In the year. The proportions are very exact; another point which guess-work or hand-mixing can't do. Duxon lead-and-zinc paint is made of the same materials that good painters use: lead, zinc, color, linseed oil, turpentine, drier, mixed together by mechanical means, in the right proportions. Out in Sioux Rapids, Ia., is a painter named T. Alvord. He has been a good painter for 15 years and has used at one time or another nearly every brand of mixed paint known. He says that Duxon lead-and-zinc is the best paint he ever used; covers more to the gallon, does it better, and spreads easier than any paint he ever put a brush into. You might try it and see if he's right. J. P. Baker sells our paint.

ROCK COUNTY'S WEALTH LISTED

IN CLERK HOWARD W. LEE'S ABSTRACT OF ASSESSMENT.

SHIFTING OF THE CROPS

In Favor of Tobacco Is Shown by Comparison with 1906 Report—Assessed and Real Valuations.

In the annual abstract of assessment, the various and varied wealth of Rock county, which has just been completed by County Clerk Howard W. Lee and copies of which are being sent to the supervisors in anticipation of the meeting next week, will be found statistical information of more than passing interest to those concerned with and solicitous about the resources of this domain and its people—and that designation ought to include almost everybody. Some of the figures returned by the assessors, of course, are good guesses, or poor ones, as the case may be. Everybody knows that there were more than 26 taxable watches in the county in 1907, and more than 16 in 1906. That the 1906 total of 1,457 pianos, organs, and melodians valued at $128,136 has been increased only to 1,458 instruments valued at $132,715 in 1907, not only casts a grave reflection on the local disciples of Orpheus, but the decreased valuation would also seem to show that there has been amazing wear and tear on those beautiful ton-mouldings installed in the homes of the prosperous before the new year began. On the face of the returns the Muscs are pulling up stakes in both Beloit and Janesville in an alarming fashion—only more so in Beloit, where the 1906 total of 521 has deteriorated to 443. Could it have been possible that Janesville, the acknowledged seat of culture, had only 338 pianos and organs in 1906, and is it believable that the number is now reduced to 306? Milton's 49 has been increased to 53; Evansville's 82 to 92; Edgerton's 95 to 114; Clinton's 42 to 49; and Orfordville's 10 to 10, yet the two big centers of population are apparently going to the devil—photographs.

County's Wall St. Still Here.
There is no such shrinkage in bank stocks. Rock county has $386,184 worth of it and $533,250 of it is located in Janesville, $197,000 in Beloit, and the rest in the balance of the county. The aggregate in 1906 was $289,058 with $501,000 worth of it held in Janesville and $137,200 in the city by the bank.

Edgerton Empress of Leaf.
The assessors also crown Edgerton as empress of tobacco leaf, crediting her with $336,360 worth of it as compared with $191,117 apportioned to Janesville. This was not true in 1906 when the public-wrong detective located $287,554 worth in Janesville and only $197,350 in the neighboring town. The 1907 aggregate is fixed at $638,321, an increase in valuation of $251,567 over the total of the previous year.

Beloit Has More "Cubicles"
In 1906 there were, according to the assessors, 48 automobiles in the county and they were distributed as follows: Janesville, 21—worth $15,475; Beloit, 21—worth $10,500; and Clinton, 3—worth $1,275. Now all is changed, so far as numerical strength is concerned, though it will be observed in examining the comparative valuations, that the lower city, as usual, is "keeping the quality up." The county now boasts of over 70 of these luxurious vehicles, located and valued by the assessors as follows: Beloit, 47—worth $18,925; Janesville, 28—worth $17,975; town of Magnolia, 1—worth $50; city of Evansville, an unknown quantity worth $7,250. The average valuation of a Janesville automobile is $611.95, while the general worth of the Beloit wheeled-torror is but $102.51. Clinton is nowhere on the automobile map, according to its assessor.

Janesville Has All the Steamboats.
The city and town of Janesville had all of the steam and other power vessels in 1906 and the same condition is still true, according to the assessors. Last year there were 29, worth $1,905, and now there are 32, worth $7,735. The Janesville boat club had over 50 on its list last summer, but perhaps some of these were regarded as "tubs" and hence neglectable for purposes of assessment and revenue.

Assessment of Farm Products.
An examination of the tables showing the acreage devoted to farm products in 1907 and 1906 shows illuminating facts. Wheat, once a great crop in this section, was confined to 687 acres, a decrease of 365 acres. Corn's total acreage is 83,271—a decrease of 643. There were 41,299 acres devoted to oats—2,915 less than in 1906. Harley shows an increase of 1,607 1/2, the total being 33,615. More land, by 1,803 1/2 acres, was devoted to rice, the total being 7,733 1/2.

In potato culture also there was an increase of 77 1/2 acres, the total being 2,213 1/2. Sugar beet's slumped 989 1/2 acres, the total being only 1,141, while the area devoted to tobacco was increased by 231 acres, the total being 7,818. Other crop totals and differences were as follows: apple orchard, 577 acres with 22,205 bearing trees—a decrease of 61 1/2 acres and 1,191 bearing trees; cultivated grasses, 50,523 acres—a falling off of 2,512 acres; growing timber, 21,877—a decrease of 1,393 acres; small fruits, about 122 acres—an increase of 61 acres. There were 123 acres devoted to grapes, 75 1/2 to strawberries, 32 1/2 to raspberries, 1 to blackberries, and about 1/2 of an acre to currants. Flaxseed was grown on 19 1/2 acres and miscellaneous root crops on 41 acres.

COFFEE MATCHED AT LAST

A Test Package Mailed Free.

A new product—Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee—is said to so closely match Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor, taste, and aroma, as to be scarcely discernable from the very best brands of real Coffee. "And yet," says Dr. Shoop, "Health Coffee has not even a grain of real Coffee in it." I make my Coffee imitation from pure, healthful, toasted grains or cereals, with malt, nuts, etc. This is why I have named it Health Coffee. Again, the tedious 20 or 30 minutes wait, necessary in preparing other Coffee substitutes is mostly saved. My new Health Coffee imitation is made in exactly one minute—in 60 seconds. If Coffee drinking makes you dull and listless, if it disturbs your stomach, your liver, or your kidneys, try my Health Coffee and see for yourself what it can and will do for you. Send 4 cents in stamps to cover postage, to Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., and secure a liberal test package entirely free. 14 pound package Health Coffee sells at 25 cents by

DEDRICK BROS.

23,512 acres; growing timber, 21,877—a decrease of 1,393 acres; small fruits, about 122 acres—an increase of 61 acres. There were 123 acres devoted to grapes, 75 1/2 to strawberries, 32 1/2 to raspberries, 1 to blackberries, and about 1/2 of an acre to currants. Flaxseed was grown on 19 1/2 acres and miscellaneous root crops on 41 acres.

Livestock in the County
In 1907 there were in the county 27,764 milch cows worth $668,329 and 19,750 other cattle valued at $247,940. This is an increase of 64 milch cows and a decrease of 1,588 in the number of all other cattle. Horses this year total 14,967 and are worth $1,019,256. There is an increase here of 1,211. Sheep and lambs total 17,251, valued at $608,184 and here, too, is an increase of 2,208. Swine a month ago or over total 27,130 valued at $227,293—an increase of 1,702.

Changes in Various Sections
When the increase or decrease in the number of acres devoted to various crops is examined with particular reference to the sections of the county responsible therefor, it is found that in sugar-beet culture, for instance, there was a shrinkage of 21,044 acres in the town of Harmony, 13,044 in the city of Janesville, 9,834 in the town of Janesville, 61 in the town of Fulton, and 21 in the town of Rock, with an increase of 21 in the town of La Prairie.

Acres decreased its acreage devoted to oats by 225, the town of Beloit by 260, the town of Fulton by 171, Harley by 128, and Clinton by 290, while Clinton increased its acreage 815.

With one or two exceptions there was an increase in tobacco all along the line. The measure of the town of Clinton's increase was 133 acres; that of Harmony, 115; Plymouth, 95; Porter, 80; Spring Valley, 108 1/2; Fulton, 79; town of Janesville, 65 1/2; Magnolia, 43; Newark, 30 1/2; Janesville city, 6. In the town of Rock, however, there was a decrease of 27 acres.

Harmony had 228 acres and Clinton 222 planted to tobacco in 1906; Clinton had 257 and Harmony 235 in 1907.

Some Real Estate Totals
Rock county, with a population of 53,756 (according to the 1905 census) has 446,536 acres of farming lands, worth $2,681,656, or an average of $5.97 per acre and land improvements worth $16,816,165. The total value of all real estate and improvements is fixed at $47,491,980.

1906 town assessment was $16,843,529 and the county assessment, $48,400,000.
Cereal and Dairy Products
Some of the totals given of the county products in 1906 are as follows: 1,026,234 pounds of butter made on farms and worth $175,129; 2,260 pounds of cheese made in the town of Plymouth; 714,170 gallons of milk sold to customers, other than creameries; 22,659 tons of sugar beets; 18,121 tons of tanned hide; 10,181 bushels of wheat; 1,366,177 bushels of corn; 1,038,412 bushels of oats; 550,452 bushels of barley; 70,171 bushels of rye; 282,230 bushels of potatoes; 15,712 bushels of apples; 3,241 1/2 bushels of strawberries; 1,709 bushels of raspberries; 8,428,841 pounds of tobacco.

Supervisor's Report
Supervisor of Assessment Frank P. Star's report has also just been received. Some interesting contrasts are shown in assessed and real valuations. Leaf tobacco, for instance, assessed at $638,321, is held to be worth in the aggregate $718,599; money and accounts, notes, bonds, and mortgages listed by the assessors at $121,040 are held to be of the actual value of $282,050; merchants and manufacturers' stock listed at $1,770,113, worth $2,212,615; bank stock listed at $886,184, worth $1,108,119; phones assessed at $131,750, worth $157,540; boats and improvements in Janesville assessed at $6,578,175, worth $9,181,800; lots and improvements in Beloit the college campus is one of the big exemptions from taxation listed at $6,706,529 and actually worth $9,210,800. The total assessed valuation of real and personal property in the county is $47,491,980 and the estimated true value is $66,291,722. The ratio of assessed to true valuation of 100 pounds of real estate inspected in Beloit is 756 and of a like number in Janesville, 755, while the average ratio for parcels inspected in all parts of the county is 710.

Why the Surplus of Widows.
Why does the proportional number of widows increase steadily? asks a Swiss Journal, and gives in reply several reasons—the men are engaged in more hazardous occupations; they waste too much time in taverns, drinking and squabbling over politics; and they generally burn the candle at both ends. Hence, the insurance companies are beginning to ask a higher rate of men than of women.

Nervy English Youngster.
A feat requiring nerves of steel was performed at Leicester, England, by Miss Lydia Akers, the 16-year-old daughter of a builder. She climbed 150 feet to the top of a chimney which is being built, and then, to the horror of the crowd which had gathered below, she calmly proceeded to walk round the edge of the scaffolding.

Author's Early Life.
J. Pennington Cooper was considerably older than his village. He was born in Burlington, N. J., in 1783, and was a year old when his father moved to the great estates by Otsego lake. In New York, from which Cooperstown was later to take his name. As training for his literary career Cooper had village schooling, part of a course at Yale and about five years at sea. He was past 30 and had a wife and six children before he thought of authorship.

Amusing Birth Notice.
The following amusing birth notice appeared in a recent issue of the Dresden Anzeiger: "To our seven hearty boys there came today, in God's early morning, not the wished for little daughter, but, in compensation, a pair of fine boys. We judge by this elementary event that these strenuous times demand more men than blossoms of the gentler sex."

BANK SITUATION TOPIC AT AFTON

MOONLIGHT CLUB OF THAT PLACE MEETS NOV. 19.

JANESVILLE MEN WILL TALK

George G. Sutherland and Frank H. Jackson Will Be Principal Speakers at Meeting.

Afton, Nov. 7.—Following out its custom of taking up some abiding topic for consideration, the Moonlight club will discuss "The Financial Situation," at the first meeting of the season, to be held at Brinkman's hall, in this village Tuesday evening, Nov. 19th. In order that a better idea may be gained of modern financial methods, the question has been divided into two sub-topics, and, upon invitation, a couple of well known Janesville men have kindly consented to address the club on this occasion. "Finance—Presented and Otherwise" will be responded to by George G. Sutherland, while the very pertinent question "Is Our Banking System What It Ought to Be?" has been assigned to Frank H. Jackson. That these men are well qualified to handle these topics will readily be conceded, when it is remembered that Mr. Sutherland is one of Janesville's most versatile men, being lawyer, banker, businessman and capitalist, while Mr. Jackson, as cashier of the Rock County National bank, is certainly competent to discuss the merits of our present banking system and to suggest wherein it might be improved to meet changed and changing conditions in American business life. John T. Atkinson of Shopley has been selected to act as leader of this initial meeting and as the club meetings have now been thrown open for the attendance of the fair sex, a large and appreciative audience may be expected. Mrs. Nellie McGee will have charge of the supper arrangements, a fact that assures a tempting spread for all to partake of.

The executive committee of the Afton Literary society met last week and talked over plans for the coming winter. It was decided to follow the line of geographical study which formed the basis of work last season, with occasionally a special program to give added interest to the series. The initial meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Walte, Tuesday evening, Nov. 12th, at which time officers for the year will be selected, a new executive committee will be appointed and an informal program rendered comprising parliamentary practice, a geography match, current news report and special music, with the roll call responded to with quotations, sentiments, historical facts, or other appropriate matter of interest. H. G. Walte, as president of the society, will act as leader of this first meeting. Capt. G. D. Atkinson will preside during the parliamentary practice and N. F. Miller will present the news report.

The supervisors of the towns of Beloit and Rock met last Tuesday afternoon and decided to lay a highway on the line between these towns, from what is known as the Eddy road west to a junction with the main road between Afton and Beloit. This will open the present town line road for about one mile farther west and form an important link between the east and west portions of the two towns. At the same time the town of Rock supervisors decided to close the road running east from the Albert Dietrich place to the prairie road, with the exception of the east end, which will be left open for the accommodation of property-owners to gain access to the land.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. Peter Draht last Thursday to sew for her.
Mrs. A. F. Zundt and daughter Jessie of Brooklyn, N. Y., expect to return home this week after having spent the summer and fall with relatives and friends in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Oakley entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Catter and daughters of Janesville last Saturday, at their home north of Afton. Pleasant features of the day were several readings by Miss Minnie Catter, piano selections by Miss Maggie Oakley and vocal solos by Miss Jessie Zundt. The afternoon closed with a card game in which James Catter and Mrs. A. F. Zundt were the winners.

W. J. Miller and son Frank has increased their real estate holdings by the recent purchase of 80 acres of land from the Joseph Griffen estate, the consideration being $4000. The land lies west of the west side river road from Afton to Janesville and makes a valuable addition to the Miller farm.

In changing the time of the English Lutheran services at the Baptist church from Sunday to Wednesday evenings, by some mistake in date on the part of Rev. Christy, he was not present last Wednesday and the audience which had gathered was disappointed. Rev. Christy deeply regrets this oversight on his part which was entirely unintentional, and wishes to make this explanation and apology to those who wished to attend the services that evening. Services will be held next Wednesday evening, when a regular and fixed time for these meetings will probably be determined.

Early Rising Denounced.

Mr. James Crichton-Browne has strong theories. Copybook rules he denounces. Almost as many men have been killed by the maxim, "Early to bed and early to rise," as by overeating. Instead of making a man healthy, wealthy and wise, early rising lowers his vitality, and results in brain-fag and early decay.

OBSTINATE ULCERS MAY LEAD TO CANCER

There is no difference, at first, in the appearance of a cancerous and a common ulcer, and for this reason every sore that is obstinate or slow in healing should excite suspicion, for the sore is nothing more than the external evidence of a polluted blood, and if allowed to remain may degenerate into cancer. Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, plasters and other external remedies always result in failure, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood, where the deadly germs and morbid matter form, and are carried through the circulation to the place. No sore or ulcer can exist without a predisposing internal cause, and the open, discharging ulcer or festering sore will continue to eat deeper into the surrounding flesh as long as a polluted, germ-infected circulation discharges its impurities into it. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open. Then as this rich, purified blood goes to the disensed place the healing begins; all discharge ceases, the inflammation gradually leaves, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs of a healing, cleansing nature, and unlike mineral medicines, which often do great damage to the delicate parts of the system, S. S. S. tones up every part of the body. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired free.

Tomorrow being the fifteenth day of the fifth moon, the Cantonese are in the habit of having singing parties in open spaces, or on the roof for the purpose of worshipping the moon. Athletic Girls.
Huddled up, with contracted chest, smoking and inhaling interminable cigarettes, the golden youth of today spends his time looking out at cricket or football, while his sister is driving a ball from the tee on a four-mile round of golf, or vigorously playing forward in the hockey field. What wonder that she develops into a splendid athlete while he remains pallid and undernourished?—Gentleman.

Raps on Wood.
The custom of rapping on wood is said to have had a religious origin. Three knocks signified an appeal to each of the three persons of the Trinity and the substance rapped on was wood, because Christ was crucified on a cross of wood. Undoubtedly a number of persons resort to this practice just as a kind of joke. To others it represents a pretty vital precaution against being overtaken by an ill from which they have declared themselves free thus far.

SOME STATEMENTS REGARDING NEW THEORY

Followers of Cooper and His Novel Ideas Give Reason for Their Belief in Him.

With a theory that human health is dependent on the stomach and with a medicine which he says proves this theory, L. T. Cooper, a comparatively young man, has built up an immense following during the past year. Cooper has visited most of the leading cities of the country, and in each city has aroused a storm of discussion about his beliefs and his medicines. Wherever he has gone, people have called upon him by tens of thousands, and his preparation has sold in immense quantities. The sale of this medicine has now spread over the entire country, and is growing enormously each day. In view of this, the following statements from two of the great number of followers which he now has, are of general interest. Mrs. Agnes Vignershouse, of 942 St. Louis Avenue, Chicago, has the following to say on the subject of the Cooper preparations: "For more than ten years I was broken down in health. I could not sleep and I was very nervous. Gradually I began to lose my memory, until I could not remember things from one day to another. I had severe pains and cramps in my body, and I would at times see dark spots before my eyes. I was unable to do any work whatever, as my strength was failing. I had no appetite, nor could I take any medicine. I had about given up hope of ever being well again when I read of Mr. Cooper's remedies. I decided to give them a trial, and I began to feel better at once. After taking the medicine for two weeks I can say that I am a new woman. I can eat with enjoyment, the pains in my body have left me, and I am stronger than I have been for years. "I cannot say enough for Mr. Cooper's remedies. They are wonderful, for they have done everything claimed for them in my case." Another statement by Mr. W. B. Stewart, 109 W. Madison St., Chicago, is as follows: "I have had stomach trouble for years, and knew who I needed this way knows what an awful distressing feeling it causes. Many a time I have felt that I would give most any price to be cured. It was by accident that I heard of this man Cooper's remedies. I immediately made up my mind to buy a treatment of him. I used it for about two weeks, and it is impossible to tell how much good it has done me. I feel altogether different. I have more life and energy than I have had for years. This medicine certainly does stimulate and strengthen the whole system. Tired feeling and weak condition of the stomach has entirely passed away. I feel well again." We sell Cooper's celebrated medicines which have made this wonderful record in all parts of the country.—E. D. Holmstrom.

CHAPTER XI.

KINROSS, sauntering in front of the porch, overheard the farmer "fixing" poor Hen.

"There ain't no use your settin' here waitin'. She's went off buggy ridin' with our Abe. Him and her's wonderful took with each other, and neither of 'em's got eyes for no other ones."

"I seen Abe's buggy ahead of me when I was drivin' over here," Hen answered, his tone expressing timid doubt of the truth of Mr. Morningstar's assertion, "and I didn't take notice of no lady settin' alongside of him. He rode clean down the pike ahead of me. Our buggies was so close apart I could see right into his'n."

"And till I got here 'readdy Henkie she was here."

"She knowed better'n to get in with him near here. She likely walked over the schoolhouse and behind Zora's church up and then got in his buggy above the town out, so's us we wouldn't see her."

Very low in his mind and looking abjectly disappointed and discouraged, Henry on receiving this information rose to go home.

Kinross mused on the situation as for an hour longer he wandered up and down the garden in the gathering night. His promenade brought him every now and then to a corner of the house from which he could see in an unobscured and reputedly "haunted" part of the building a faint flickering light in one of the windows.

He had been told of the tradition concerning the ghost who visited this wing of the old house. The Morningstars were very proud of the distinction of living with the only ghost of the township, and strangers to the neighborhood were never left long in ignorance of it. Kinross felt sure, from what he had seen of the family, that none of them could possibly be induced to go near that haunted quarter of the house after dark and he was naturally puzzled, therefore, to account for the light he saw in the window just now.

He thought he would ask Mrs. Morningstar to let him sleep in the haunted room some night and see whether he could not meet and lay the spirit that troubled it. It did not occur to him to associate the light with the absence of Eunice. He accepted, unhesitatingly, as did Tom Muckelbenny, Mr. Morningstar's story of her clandestine drive with Abe. Indeed, the family's agitation over the fact was keeping them up long after their usual early bedtime, as he knew from the lamp light in the kitchen to which the element of his stroll periodically brought him.

His impressions of Eunice were in dire confusion and refused to lend themselves to readjustment. That a girl capable of even accidentally reading "The Complaint Angler" and discussing it as she had done should "take up" with Abe Morningstar was singular, to say the least. The flower-like beauty of her face, the peculiarly thrilling quality of her voice, her grace and, in some respects, exuberance made it seem incongruous that she should, as Mr. Morningstar had expressed it, be "wonderful took with our Abe." And then the intelligence she had revealed this evening—what was it she had said about "The Complaint Angler"? It was not "for its didactic instructions about fishing" that she cared for it, but "for the anecdotes scattered through it, the quotations and songs and poems."

Good Lord! Should he presently discover that Abe was familiar with Chaucer and Spenser and that Olio was a student of Shakespeare and Milton? He couldn't have been more astonished if he had found Mrs. Morningstar quoting Henry James or some other famous name. As a psychologist he could not reconcile the fact of the girl's having left school at the age of twelve, according to her foster mother's own acknowledgment, with her capacity for assimilating Isaac Walton's little classic. He recalled that Mrs. Morningstar had told him of the child's grief at being taken from school. "She cried wonderful," the woman had said in the unassuming tone with which she always spoke of the girl.

"It would take a Sherlock Holmes to ferret out this mystery," he said to himself.

As he came to this conclusion a turn in his walk brought him in sight again of the haunted back building, and he saw that the lighted window had become dark. "The ghost has gone to rest," he decided.

A moment later as he came around to the front of the house the light of a lamp illumined one of the upstairs bedroom windows, the room in which, as he knew, Olio and Eunice slept. Just a moment before he had passed the kitchen in which he had seen Olio and her parents sitting about the table. Who, then, was in that upstairs room? No member of the Morningstar household would commit the extravagance of leaving a lamp burning in an empty room. Had the ghost wandered from the back room to the front one? But ghosts did not move by the light of kerosene lamps.

Presently in his circuit about the house he found that the trio in the kitchen had at last taken their lamps and gone upstairs, leaving the kitchen door unwatched for him and for the truant lovers.

Kinross felt an impulse of pity for Eunice as he thought of the retribution she would have to face on her return or on the morrow.

"But she never seems to mind the old lady's upbraidings; she takes them with an apparently philosophical calm," he thought. "I wonder whether, against all the stress that will be brought to bear upon her, she will with equal calmness and philosophy persist in her devotion to Abe. I should think she'd find it hard to hold out against the cold blooded obstinacy of that brutal old Morningstar—harder than against the woman's warm temper. I fancy the Dutchman could be cruel under some circumstances. Now, I'm inclined to think Eunice would fare better if she favored that sheep that came to court her this evening—Tom Muckelbenny. He looks innocent and soft hearted, while Abe Morningstar is a genuine son of his father—small souled, selfish and brutal. But she doesn't know that it is she Hen came to see, and the Morningstars will take care that she doesn't find it out. I might do her a good turn by telling her on the quiet."

His meditation turned at last from sheer weariness into another channel, and he fell to thinking of the awkward situation he would have to confront when, on his return to town, he should be obliged to meet Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Parks in his true character. How he was going to carry it off was a question which not infrequently occupied his leisure moments.

"I wonder whether Georgiana was in the least shaken out of her orbit by the shock of Eunice's correcting her quotation from Isaac Walton and declaring to be a recipient of charity—that was the damsel's phraseology, if I remember. Probably not. She could hardly forget herself long enough to entertain more than a mere passing wonder about another woman."

For wishing to give that dress to Eunice—it was not because of any sympathy with Eunice; it was merely an exploiting of herself, an insistence upon her theories, which she feels set her above and apart from the common herd. If something could happen to her to knock out of her her own fool idea of herself and make her just a simple, natural girl, why, with such beauty and distinction as she has, she might be a very charming woman."

He took his pipe from his mouth and clasped his hands behind him as he bent back his head to the stars while he dwelt upon the picture of a revised Georgiana which his fancy called up. He was just wondering whether the deception he was playing upon her in his disguise might not be made in some way to work such a revision in her when his attention was arrested by the sound of approaching carriage wheels.

In the quiet of the country evening the beat of the horse's hoofs could be heard from a distance, and he had time to decide that it was no doubt the buggy containing the truant lovers that was coming up the road and to wonder how their return would be met by the angry heads of the house when the vehicle drove in at the barn, and he saw as he strolled in that direction that Abe was alone.

What had the fellow done with Eunice? Kinross was surprised into a quick feeling of alarm for the girl's safety. He was on the point of stopping after Abe into the barn to inquire after her when he bethought him that he would do better to keep out of the "mixup."

"It's none of my business. Of course Abe would justly resent my solicitude for the girl."

So, with the reflection that he was living in the midst of fast thickening mysteries, he shook out his pipe and went indoors for the night.

To reach his bedroom he had to pass the opening to the long, narrow hall which led into the rebellious back building, and it was just as he came to this passage that his step was arrested by something which gave him a momentary thrill of excitement. The lamp he carried shed a light down the passage, and his eye was caught by a white figure moving swiftly and noiselessly at the farthest end of it. Almost instantly the figure disappeared. Whether it had run around a turn in the hall or dissolved into ether he could not be sure. Was it a wrath or what? Should he pursue it? No; its garb was too suggestive of a woman's nightgown to make pursuit on his part advisable. He would get Mrs. Morningstar's permission to sleep down there some night, and then, if ghost it were, he would surely make its acquaintance.

With this conclusion and feeling not only exhausted with the evening's succession of episodes he went to bed.

FOOTBALL STRATEGY.

Description of New Play That Resembles Old Guardsback.

DISCARDING OLD METHODS.

Importance of Scrub Teams as Training Schools For Varsity Eleven.
They Produce Some of the Best Players—A Harvard Example.

Carl Williams, high in authority in football matters at the University of Pennsylvania, has a new play somewhat resembling the old guardsback play that worked such havoc with all Penn's opponents until Harvard finally found a means to forestall it.

In the new play a tackle is drawn from the line and placed a yard back just outside of the end. A tandem formation is then introduced by placing a half or full back immediately behind the tackle. The same formation is used on the other side of the line with the two remaining backs. Altogether, with the quarter behind center, the formation takes the appearance of the capital letter "E." The strongest plays are those just outside of tackle, but at the same time the arrangement of men makes possible a strong attack on any spot in the line. A slow revolving mass play upon tackle is the one play that has been tried, and in this play a forward generally carries the ball.

A short diagonal forward pass is used occasionally with the avowed purpose of keeping the opponents' defense scattered. In fact, all new-fangled plays and especially outside kicks, with the quarter kicking either to the left or right, can be worked from this formation better than from any other arrangement yet seen.

It is generally admitted by critics that the old stereotyped ideas on football when applied to the new game are certain to result disastrously. Several colleges have been quick to discard long standing methods and adopt new measures to deal with the new game. At Pennsylvania, for instance, the unique system of offense is the first fruit of the new ideas. While at this season the real value of the system cannot be estimated because of the lack of time for practicing and perfecting these formation plays, some idea of their potential value can be gained in the Quakers' forthcoming games.

The scrub team at every university is one of the most valuable adjuncts of a football eleven. The scrub team is the great training school for the varsity eleven, and its members have to work harder than the men on the first eleven in many instances. From the scrubs have come half of the best players in the country.

Hardly a week passes but somewhere a future star is unearthed in a scrub team. A few days ago, for instance, H. V. White, the fullback of the Harvard scrub, broke through the varsity line several times for big gains, and as a result the scrubs actually kept the varsity team from scoring in a practice game. White, so Captain Parker believes, will next year be one of the best fullbacks in the college world.

Of course it is the ambition of every member of a scrub team to be allowed to line up with the varsity eleven in some big game, if even for a few minutes, so that he will be entitled to wear the big initial of his university, always an evidence of distinction among college athletes.

Design For a Lingerie Bag—Useful
Shirt Waist Cover.

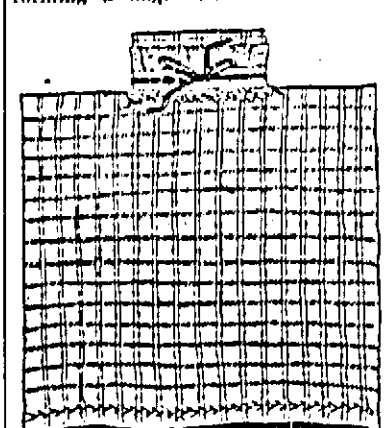

The Lingerie bag illustrated requires for its fashioning a pretty embroidered linen or lawn handkerchief. Fold it once and join the sides with inch wide lace insertion. This forms the bag. Trim the top with insertion to match the sides, then a wide bending for the ribbon to pass through and an inch wide lace trim. Run the ribbon through the bending, making a pretty bow at each end. Little work is required, and a dainty bag suitable for carrying with a lingerie gown is evolved. In addition to the handkerchief the materials required are one and one-quarter yards of lace insertion, three-quarters of a yard of bending, one yard of lace edging and three yards of half inch ribbon.

A shirt waist cover designed to slip over the regulation lingerie is here pictured. To make it take a piece of silk or cotton material forty-four inches long and twenty-two inches wide, fold in the middle and stitch up the sides, forming a bag. Turn and fold the top in three parts and slit the middle section, leaving one-third on each side. This slit is for the collar, which is made by cutting a band five inches deep and sixteen inches wide. Attach with a wide heading and trim top and bottom with lace. Run in lace ribbon and make a generous bow in front. This slit is just wide enough to allow the hanger to slip through, and the waist or coat is protected from the dust and light. The cover illustrated was made from ordinary barred muslin, with lace stitching around the bottom in blue wash silk and with ribbon to match.

Curious Tropical Fish.

One of the most curious of fishes is found in the tropical regions of South America, where it is known as the anableps. Its most remarkable characteristic is its eyes. These are quite prominent and each is divided by a horizontal partition into two parts, the upper adapted for seeing in the air as it swims along the surface of the water and the lower for seeing in the water at the same time.
